ADVANCED ANTI-TANK MISSILEMAN COURSE

- Purpose: To provide training and education to 0352s serving in the billet of an anti-armor squad or section leader. The desired end-state is to develop the doctrinal skills requisite of an 0352 anti-armor squad or section leader and to improve student tactical decision-making abilities.

- Task List:
  - 1000 Level:
    - Medium and heavy anti-armor weapon core competencies
  - 2000 Level:
    - Annex A (troop leading, combat orders, fire support planning, patrolling, and call for fire)
    - Offense, defense, and urban operations
    - Machinegun employment
    - Medium and heavy anti-armor weapon employment
    - Employment of anti-armor squad and motorized anti-armor units

- Methodology: The course focuses on teaching the skills and doctrinal knowledge required to serve as a anti-armor squad or weapons section leader with an emphasis on decision-making. Instruction is executed through lecture, practical application, field training, and live fire exercises. Each student is tested during a field leadership evaluation based on a tactical scenario.